Residential Inspections

Our inspectors take photographs on-site to document any adverse property conditions that may present a risk of loss, validate property characteristics such as the address, construction type, number of stories, roof shape, and other key elements. These photographs are included in the exterior observation report with data points to verify occupancy, construction, roof, location, proximity to water, protection, general condition, and scoring of negative hazards.

Residential Offerings

- Residential Virtual Inspection
- High Value Inspection of any coverage level
- Street View Photos
- Exterior with option to include EHP interior features

Self-Inspection Services

- Our approach to Self-Inspection data collection uses fast and easy to use technology that creates a tailored touchpoint for your policyholders.
- This tool can be used for all your needs. Homeowners and personal auto applications available.
- Each Self Inspection is branded for our client and provides enhanced customer service and brand recognition.

Commercial Inspections

We understand the level of variety amongst commercial properties dictates the need for highly-specialized inspections and the expertise of multiple inspectors. For that reason, we prioritize personalized training and specialized knowledge for our team of field professionals.

Commercial Inspection Service Offerings

- Exterior Photo Package (Multi-Coverage)
- Self Inspection
- Property
- Liability
- Commercial Habitation
- Virtual Inspections
- Risk Consulting
- Telephone Surveys

Each offering is conducted through a three-step process:

These offerings provide a thorough, detailed, and accurate analysis of property conditions to drive more informed underwriting decisions. Each report summarizes inspector findings in detail and highlights both property strengths and potential deficiencies. Underwriters will have the information they need to at their fingertips to understand issues that may impact the property from a physical, financial, as well as from a safety and health perspective.

1

Property research collection

2

Comprehensive walk-through of the property for visual observation and assessment of critical systems

3

A detailed report based on these observations and research

Internal expertise and quality control unite

The Davies approach to risk and inspection services features a unique blend of internal expertise and robust quality control. We tailor our solutions to meet the individual needs of our clients and maintain a personalized experience throughout the engagement.

Each inspection is evaluated by our internal Quality Assurance team prior to underwriting review. Our quality assurance and field teams work together to provide accurate, high-quality data and reports.

Purpose-built, dynamic technology solutions

Designed with the needs of underwriters in mind, our proprietary technology supports the entire inspection cycle from order creation to customer delivery. You can easily order and review inspections in just a few clicks and review at any time. Commercial and residential drone and self-inspections further round out our dynamic technology-enabled solutions.
